

“Infants that are in an alert or quiet wake state before feeding have been reported to have a higher intake during feeding.”

McGrath, J. & Medoff-Cooper, B. (2002). Alertness and feeding competence in extremely early born preterm infants. Newborn & Infant Nursing Research, 2(3), 174-186.

